

C. C. KNELL.

Two ladies went out to buy up some goods, To make a success they hunt up every nick of the woods; To start let us see what KNELL has got, For at home here we will commence on the spot.

They look through the stock and think its immense, The assortment is large and the style, elegance; Every story and department is as full as it can be, And how it pays here we really can't see.

Now, really Mrs. Brown, I know we cannot do better, You see yourself the goods are as represented to the letter; But, really Mrs. Jones, I can't decide just yet, And before I shall purchase I want to see another set.

You've heard of the village on the other side of the creek, And there we will go at the end of the week, I don't object to have people look round, To see where the best goods for the least money are found.

I know that I cannot be under-sold, However, if I say so, they think I am bold; I want to treat every one fair and square, In this way I think I will get my due share.

My business is built up on practical experience, And spiced from the start with true perseverance; Its hard to start without any money, And those who have tried it know it is not all honey.

The next week my customers came back as expected, Their tour of exploration they had just perfected; No where in these parts could they do so well, So they decided to come back to C. C. KNELL.

They admitted that my styles in every way did excel, And there was more to select from they could truly tell; My stock entire was ahead of any they had seen, For though every store over there they had been.

To sell them now was as easy as rolling off a log, For the skies had got clear and they were out of the fog; They concluded hereafter it was useless to look around, For right here in Rock Island to buy they were bound.

Why carry the money away from the town, While all that is spent here helps us all around; We shall support home industry every time if we ken, For I make most my goods and employ a number of men; They all have to live and spend their money right here, And that is the way to keep the machine in good gear.

Now in conclusion my friends, I just wish to say, If you want Furniture and Carpets just come this way; And if perchance, I cannot suit you, There is no harm in seeing what I can do.

C. C. KNELL.

A Grilly Girl.
There is joy, and much of it, at the residence of Mr. Tim Babcock. Grandpa James Mills says the baby is of the feminine persuasion, and came last evening.

The Golden Eagle.
The Golden Eagle clothing store has received its stock of fall and winter garments, and is now prepared to suit the taste of its many patrons. The kind of clothing sold at this establishment is of the best quality, and the suits fit as well as tailor made garments. When you want good clothing be sure and call at the Golden Eagle.

Furnishing Goods and Suitings.
I. Liberman has completed his fall and winter purchase of woollens which have been selected with great care to meet the tastes of his many customers. His stock consists of the latest and most desirable patterns in foreign and domestic suitings, trowers and overcoatings. The very latest styles in hats are also to be found at this establishment, as well as a nobby stock of furnishing goods. Call and see him.

On His Zuma.
John Zeigler, of Zuma township, is off his mental base, as it were, and an order has been issued to have him taken to Jacksonville. He has been at the institution, and was returned incurable, but his insanity is now growing on him, and he is becoming a terror to his immediate neighborhood. As his relatives are able to keep him, the county will be relieved from that expense.

Roma Again.
Will R. Johnson, the popular jeweler, is at home, having arrived this morning. The result of this trip will be seen next week, when he will have on display a new line of silverware, ladies' and gents' watches, a full line of knives, forks, and spoons, etc. These goods have been purchased to meet the requirements of his trade, and embrace all that is new and novel in jewelry. They will be opened for inspection the first of next week. Don't forget to call and see them.

The City's Abattoir.
The city's abattoir, on the river bank in the lower end of town, is fast nearing completion, and Health Commissioner Craig and the health committee of the council are pushing the work as rapidly as possible. The building is completed so far as outside work is concerned, and the interior arrangements are being put in place, and it is intended to open the institution by November 1, at the outside. The ground about the building is being filled up above the high water mark at the rate of three hundred cubic yards a day, and the new road leading to the site which was recently constructed, has proved a common thoroughfare already. The heavy wagons going to and coming from the ice houses use it constantly, and report it the best road down there.

He Fanned a Passenger.
Balliffs McEnery and Larkin, and Mr. Robertson, of the poor farm, returned from Jacksonville this morning, where they went with a batch of insane people. They report a laughable occurrence on the train. A passenger of German extraction was making himself quite numerous, walking through the aisle of the car and talking to those who would listen to him. He finally came up to the Rock Island delegation and began quizzing them. Mathias Steffen, one of the crazy men, evidently thought the fellow was too fresh, for he hauled off a Sullivan and gave the verdant son of sauerkraut such a blow behind the ear that he tumbled him over into a seat. This quizzed the fellow and he was as mum as an oyster during the rest of the trip. The Rock Island inmates were put to work in the broom department at Jacksonville.

Result of a Bullet Wound.
William Baule, proprietor of the Baule house Davenport, died at 13 o'clock last night, from prostration formed Monday afternoon, September 21st. At the battle of Strawberry river, Arkansas, Mr. Baule was shot in the leg and has since that time carried a rebel bullet. At that time an unsuccessful attempt was made to extract it and subsequently upon several different occasions amputation of that limb was thought advisable. At intervals it was a source of much annoyance and pain and caused Mr. Baule to appear lame. Recently he came to the conclusion that he must lose the limb, however much averse to its amputation in the past. Dr. Peck was summoned and performed an operation, removing the lead bullet which was 4 of an inch in diameter and had lodged in the flesh between the bones of the foot. After the patient had partially recovered from the effect of the ether administered he exclaimed, "That rebel ball is still in my foot." This operation necessitated the cessation of all stimulants in the shape of liquor. As Mr. Baule's system had greatly deteriorated and was in bad condition his constitution was unable to stand the shock of the operation and he died from prostration. During the war he served in the Sixth Missouri cavalry and was a brave soldier. He received no less than six wounds in the various conflicts and battles, in which he participated.

A Party.
A recherche affair will take place on the bluff near Elm street next week, in the shape of a reception on an elaborate scale.

SOCIETY SOCIALS.
Laurel Lodge's Ball Last Evening—A Delightful Affair—Coming Events in Society Circles.

A. O. U. W. BALL.

When the last tunes of the merry waltz died away in Armory hall last evening at 4 o'clock this morning rather, there ended one of the most successful balls and genuine social good times that has been held in Rock Island for many a long day. It was the sociable and ball given by Laurel Lodge, No. 4, Degree of Honor of the A. O. U. W. Despite the inclemency of the weather, which of course had its effect in keeping the people away to a certain extent, there were from thirty to forty couples present. Prior to the opening of the ball, Biehl's orchestra discoursed happy music in the A. O. U. W. hall, and Prof. S. T. Bowly gave several entertaining and amusing vocal selections. The ball was a grand success in every particular.

The various committees discharged their duties with such becoming taste that we give their names:

On arrangements—Mrs. A. Altman, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. H. Harris, Mrs. F. C. Hemenway, Mrs. I. C. Peck, Mrs. Mrs. Wm. Gray, Mrs. J. N. Hutton, Mrs. A. J. Cook.

On invitation—W. H. Judge, P. L. L. L. R. H. Robb, J. B. Johnson. Reception committee—James Blaisdell, G. W. McBride, Amos Althaus, James Hardin. Floor managers—Ira C. Peck, P. C. Hemenway.

The supper was by no means a part of the evening's entertainment to be overlooked. It was prepared by the ladies of the order and was without doubt one of the finest spreads ever displayed in the city. After this sumptuous repast had been partaken of, the dance went on and joy was unconfined until the shades of night began to disappear, and the peeping of light through the windows foretold the coming day.

U. A. O. D. will have a sociable and ball at their hall in this city on Saturday evening next. It promises to be a delightful affair. Bluer's band will furnish the music, and the Mannechor singing society will be present.

New Advertisements.
C. C. KNELL.

Among the new cards to be found in the Argus is the advertisement of the mammoth house furnishing goods establishment of C. C. Knell, who needs no introduction to the people of the tri cities, where he has done business for nearly fifteen years. Mr. Knell's trade is not confined exclusively to this locality; in fact people from the country within a radius of fifty miles of this city can be seen almost every day buying goods at his place; his trade also extends to almost every state in the union. What is the reason of this grand trade? The reason is obvious to all who have taken the trouble to examine his large stock. Many in the tri-cities have at times visited Chicago expecting to see something finer in the furniture line, but almost invariably they come back and buy at Knell's and admit that his goods are just at fine, his styles as new and his prices lower than in the larger cities. Mr. Knell is somewhat of a poet, as will be seen by a careful perusal of his advertisement on the local page.

DAVID DON.
Mr. David Don is also one of our most reliable merchants who has been in business here for more than a quarter of a century, and who has been rewarded with success. Mr. Don handles only that class of goods that will bear a guarantee among the many kinds of cook stoves, as the "Riverside" manufactured by the Rock Island Stove Co. It combines all the latest improvements, and is equal to any in the market, and considerably cheaper. He also has the Garland stoves, consisting of hard and soft coal heaters, cooks and ranges, which are world wide in reputation as first class stoves. He is ably assisted in his business by Mr. Hugh McDonald, who is ever attentive to the wants of his customers. Read Don's advertisement elsewhere.

THE CENTRAL SHOE STORE.
The rapid rise among the merchants here of G. L. & S. N. Wynes, of the popular Central shoe is due to their method of doing business, buying and selling strictly on the cash principle. They also have an advertisement in another part of the paper.

The Soldier's Home.
No news from Soldier's Home Commissioners at Springfield yet. The board in the discharge of its duty, traveled 3586 miles and inspected 136 sites. In addition to the railroad travel it was driven an average of fifteen miles in carriage for each of the 43 places visited. Among the prominent gentlemen in the capital city interested in the location of the institution are Judge Lawrence Weldon, of Bloomington; Congressman E. R. Payson, Pontiac; Judge Jesse J. Phillips, of Hillsboro; Representative Cleveland, of Danville; Hon. Harry C. Blount, of Rock Island; Senator Jas. Rogers, of Decatur; Hon. E. Sanborn, of Sterling; Gen. S. D. Atkins, of Freeport; Hon. E. H. Phelps and Harlan P. Tracy, of Elmwood; Capt. Ed. Harlan and Harrison Black, of Marshall; Hon. T. W. McNeely, of Petersburg (Old Salem); Representatives Shepler, of Cumberland, and Deikman, of Vandavia. With the mass of material before it and the careful analysis the commission is making, it is not probable a location will be made before late this evening.

A Wyoming Territory "Glee Club" has lynched six men for horse stealing this year, so far, without interfering with musical pursuits.

SPECIAL DELIVERY SYSTEM.
The New Regulation Inaugurated Today—Rules Issued by the Post-Office Department.

Postmasters have received a circular from the postoffice department relative to the immediate delivery system which went into effect today. The circular says that the special delivery of stamps are to be sold by postmasters in any required amount but they can only be used for the purpose of securing the immediate delivery of letters addressed to and received in the mails at any of the offices designated as special delivery offices. Under no circumstances are they to be used in the payment of postage of any description or the registry fee, nor can any other stamps be employed to secure special delivery except the special delivery stamp. The special delivery stamp must be in addition to the lawful postage and letters not prepaid with at least one full rate of postage, in accordance with the law and regulations, will be treated as held for postage, even though bearing a special delivery stamp. Registered letters will be entitled to immediate delivery, the same as ordinary letters, when bearing a special delivery stamp in addition to the full postage and registry fee registered. A letter bearing a special delivery stamp in addition to the lawful postage, may be mailed at any postoffice in the country, but it will not be entitled to an immediate delivery by a messenger when addressed to a postoffice to which the special delivery system has not been extended. Special delivery letters will be delivered by messenger within the carrier limits of a free delivery office, and within a radius of one mile at all other special delivery offices.

No effort will be spared to expedite the mailing of letters bearing special delivery stamps addressed to special delivery offices. The following is a description of the new stamps: A line engraving on steel, oblong in form; dimensions 13-16 by 17-16 inches; color, dark blue. On the left is an arch panel bearing the figure of a mail messenger boy on a run, and surmounted by the words, "United States." On the right is an oblong tablet, ornamented with a wreath of oak and laurel surrounding the words "SECURE IMMEDIATE DELIVERY AT A SPECIAL DELIVERY OFFICE." Across the top of the tablet is the legend "special postal delivery," and at the bottom are the words "ten cents," separated by a shield bearing the numeral "10." It is important that the number and name of the street should be included in the address. The system promises to be of great service.

Postmaster Hawes today sold six stamps of the new regulation, and delivered one letter under the special system.

WAYS OF THE WICKED.
A Clever Catch by Our Eagle Eyed Sheriff—Points for the Police—Trotting Evil Paths.

A CLEVER CATCH.

It was a clever catch which our eagle eyed sheriff made at Keokuk yesterday morning. It seems that among the indictments returned by the grand jury at the present term of court was one against J. D. Allen, a notorious individual, living near Port Byron, who is charged with burglary, and whose wife obtained a decree of divorce from him, a short time ago, and since that time, Allen, whose whereabouts have not been known, has made sundry threats of vengeance upon his former spouse. Friends of the family, through Allen's repeated declarations of intended vengeance, got on to his whereabouts, and informed Sheriff Reticker, and that official set his detective faculties to work upon the case, and instead of accompanying the poor farm inmate patients to Jacksonville, as many were led to suppose, he got off at Monmouth and proceeded to Keokuk, where he appeared in the garb of a sportsman, and a stranger at that. Through a series of maneuvers he succeeded in gaining the track of his man, who, in the meantime, however, had assumed the fictitious title of Sheriff. Finally, satisfying himself that the object of his search was Sheriff Reticker, Sheriff Reticker arrested him and brought him to the city last night.

CONFIDENCE MEN CAUGHT.
As the cannon ball train left this city last night going west, two suspicious looking men were seen to get aboard. The conductor was attracted by their attention, and on arriving at Davenport telephoned to the police headquarters. Chief Kessler accordingly boarded the train, as it was passing through the city, but was evidently observed by the suspicious characters as they leaped off, and Chief Kessler learning of this a few blocks further on, left the train, and the Gazette says, "telephoned Capt. Martens, who with Officer Garland repaired to the Perry street depot. The crowd of passengers on the west bound train was carefully scrutinized and two well dressed and sleek appearing fellows, who gave their names as J. B. Howard and John Roach, were placed under arrest. They claimed they were enroute to Kansas City, and produced a railroad ticket, which, however, was for Council Bluffs. On their persons was found a large number of blank bank checks and spurious gold mining bonds and they attempted to throw away after taken into custody. It is understood they attempted to flee a passenger on the cannon ball train but did not succeed. They were locked up at the station. Roach had $140 in money on his person."

POLICE POINTS.
Last evening Officer Brennan arrested Wesley Catell, an employee of Barker, the ice man, for stealing a coat from Weyerhaeuser & Denkmann's lumber yard. He was taken before Justice Bennett this morning, before whom he pleaded guilty to the charge and was held in $100 bail to appear at the next term of the circuit court. Later Deputy Sheriff Silvis served upon Catell an indictment found by the grand jury against him four years ago for being an accomplice of Edna Ailes in the attempted rape of a little daughter of J. Schank, and on which charge he had eluded capture until now.

Down in Our Alley.
Nearly every well defined property holder has an alley, and Mayor Murdoch is no exception to the rule. Up to a few days ago the alley in the rear of our chief magistrate's abode was a plain, narrow passage way, not unlike the others in the city. But this is a world of changes, and the mayor's alley has been affected by a transformation at once useful and substantial. Fifteen or twenty wagon loads of macadam have been dumped in the alley, and strange to say, it was not employed all in one spot. Workmen were engaged to break the rock into small pieces and spread it carefully over the surface of the alley. They worked so rapidly that it took several days to complete the job. They were in such a hurry that they forgot to spread the macadam at either end of the alley for several feet, and the result was that most of it was placed in the rear of the mayor's residence, and the one adjoining it, also owned by him. We trust that the workmen will not forget to put in their bill next Monday evening, however, nor the cost of the rock itself. But we would ask them to itemize it just to see how much the whole job cost. If the expense is not too great the rest of the alley might be macadamized, because there are other property holders in the same block who would be glad to have it done, provided the city pays for it. Then there are some streets that need macadamizing too, and where there is a little more travel than in Mr. Murdoch's alley. Of course, there can be no objection to the work being done on the alley; it is proper that the mayor should have his property in first class order. Even if he should ask to have some shade trees planted in his front yard, his request should be granted. There is nothing like being accommodated.
